COMMENTS

At the beginning of the 1976 Congress in Ames (USA), a special tribute was made to the memory of the deceased Congress President and co-founder of the IPVS, Prof. Dr H. W. Dunne. Dr Brandt (USA) took his place as President and Dr Hutton (Ames) was Congress Secretary. In the Opening Session lectures were given by Dr R.H.C. Penny (UK) on "Preventive Medicine: The Science and Art", Dr T Niwa (Japan) on "Pork Production in the Orient", and Dr 0. Bohm (Yugoslavia) on "A Brief Review of Pork Production in Eastern Europe".

The scientific programme included many diverse sessions, particularly management problems, including the construction of buildings and equipment. Infectious diseases were widely discussed, together with the physiology and pathology of reproduction, lameness, the stress syndrome, immunology, surgery and clinical medicine. A visit to farms and to the faculty in Ames was offered as the practical part of the Congress
